LIST OF DEPARTURE PROVISIONS

This list identifies provisions in the Guidelines Manual that indicate when a departure based on a specific ground may be warranted.

In the list that follows, the guideline provision is printed in bold type if it involves a downward departure and italic type if it involves an upward departure. (Where the guideline provision could involve either an upward departure or a downward departure, depending on the circumstances, the guideline provision is printed in normal, roman type.)

For departures generally, including provisions setting forth the standards that apply in determining whether a departure is warranted, provisions indicating certain factors that are not relevant (or not ordinarily relevant) in determining whether a departure is warranted, and provisions indicating certain circumstances that are prohibited as grounds for departure, see Chapter Five, Parts H (Specific Offender Characteristics) and K (Departures). For departures with regard to organizations, see Chapter Eight, Part C, Subpart 4 (Departures from the Guideline Fine Range).

For the definition of “departure” and related terms, see §1B1.1 (Application Instructions), Application Note 1(E).

For the use of departures in determining the sentence, see §1B1.1(b). For the information to be used in determining whether a departure is warranted, see §§1B1.4 (Information to Be Used in Imposing Sentence (Selecting a Point Within the Guideline Range or Departing from the Guideline) and 1B1.8 (Use of Certain Information). Other procedural provisions applicable to departures include §§5K2.0(e) (Requirement of Specific Written Reasons for Departure), 6A1.4 (Notice of Possible Departure), and 6B1.2 (Standards for Acceptance of Plea Agreements).

As an aid to understanding the role of departures in the guidelines, see Chapter One, Part A, Subpart 1(4)(b) (Departures).
