Sentencing Statistics

Enclosed is a copy of the United States Sentencing Commission's 2018 Annual Report and Sourcebook of Federal Sentencing Statistics. The Annual Report presents an overview of the Commission and highlights for the reader the Commission's major activities and accomplishments during the year. The Sourcebook contains detailed descriptive statistics on the implementation of the sentencing guidelines and provides district, circuit, and national sentencing data.

The new Sourcebook reflects a year-long process to update and revise the way the Commission reports sentencing data to the public. It is more comprehensive, informative, and easier to use. You can learn more about the update in the Introduction to the Revised Sourcebook of Federal Sentencing Statistics.

Introduction

The United States Sentencing Commission ("the Commission") was created by the Sentencing Reform Act provisions of the Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984. The Commission is an independent agency in the Judicial Branch of the federal government, with statutory duties that include:

- promulgating sentencing guidelines to be considered by sentencing judges in all federal criminal cases;
- collecting, analyzing, and reporting sentencing data systematically to detect new criminal trends, assess federal sentencing policies, and serve as a clearinghouse for federal sentencing statistics;
- conducting research on sentencing issues and serving as an information center for the collection, preparation, and dissemination of information on federal sentencing practices; and
- providing specialized training to judges, probation officers, staff attorneys, law clerks, prosecutors, defense attorneys, and other members of the federal criminal justice community on application of the federal sentencing guidelines and federal sentencing generally.

The Commission sits at the intersection of all three branches of government and synthesizes the interests of the three branches to effectuate sound federal sentencing policy. Consistent with statutory guidance and Supreme Court precedent, the Commission has continued to meet its core mission to promulgate new guidelines and guideline amendments in response to legislation, sentencing data, and feedback from sentencing courts, Congress, the Executive Branch, federal defenders, and others in the federal criminal justice system.

Agency Overview

Commissioners

The Commission's seven voting members are appointed to staggered six-year terms by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate. By statute, at least three of the commissioners shall be federal judges, and no more than four may be members of the same political party. The Attorney General (or the Attorney General's designee) and the Chairperson of the United States Parole Commission are ex officio members of the Commission.

Throughout fiscal year 2018, Circuit Judge William H. Pryor Jr., served as Acting Chair of the Commission, and Professor Rachel E. Barkow, Senior District Judge Charles R. Breyer, and Judge Danny C. Reeves served as commissioners. The terms of Judge Pryor and Professor Barkow, however, expired at the end of the 115th Congress. Consequently, as of the second quarter of fiscal year 2019, Judge Breyer and Judge Reeves are the only voting members of the Commission. Other commissioners include Patricia K. Cushwa (ex officio, U.S. Parole Commission) and David Rybicki (ex officio, U.S. Department of Justice). The Commission, by statute, must have at least four voting commissioners to promulgate amendments to the guidelines, but the Commission's other statutory duties are unaffected by the lack of four voting commissioners.

Organization

In fiscal year 2018, the Commission staff of 92 employees was divided into the Offices of the Staff Director, General Counsel, Education and Sentencing Practice, Research and Data, Legislative and Public Affairs, and Administration.

The Office of the Staff Director supervises and coordinates all agency functions. The director of each office outlined above reports to the staff director, who in turn reports to the Commission chair.

The Office of General Counsel supports the Commission on a variety of legal issues, including the formulation and application of the guidelines and guideline amendments, legislative proposals, and statutory interpretations. Legal staff monitor the district and circuit courts' application and interpretation of the guidelines and advise commissioners about statutes affecting the Commission's work. The legal staff provides training support in conjunction with the Office of Education and Sentencing Practice.

In addition, the office performs all drafting services for the Commission, prepares the Guidelines Manual for printing, formally manages and maintains all papers and exhibits received by the Commission that constitute requests for Commission action on sentencing policy development, and coordinates the Commission's policy initiatives.

The Office of Education and Sentencing Practice performs the lead role in teaching guideline application to judges, probation officers, prosecuting and defense attorneys, and other criminal justice professionals. The staff develops training materials, participates in the sentencing guideline segments of training programs sponsored by other agencies, works in conjunction with the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts and the Federal Judicial Center to create podcasts that are aired on the Commission's website, and helps inform the Commission about current guideline application practices. The office also operates the "HelpLine" to respond to guideline application questions from the Judicial Branch.

The Office of Research and Data provides statistical and other social science research and analyses on specific sentencing issues and federal crime. The office receives documents from the federal courts concerning the sentences imposed on individual offenders, analyzes and enters information from those documents into the Commission's comprehensive computer database, and creates annual datafiles of sentencing information. Individual offender datafiles (without individual identifiers) from fiscal year 2002 to the present are available on the Commission's website. Working with the Office of the General Counsel, the Office of Research and Data also collects information on organizations convicted of crimes and on appeals filed in individual and organizational cases.

The Office of Research and Data studies a variety of sentencing issues, including changes in the types and severity of federal crimes, changes in the demographic characteristics and criminal history of federal offenders, and sentencing trends in the federal courts. The office creates periodic reports on federal sentencing practices and tracks the application of the sentencing guidelines. These reports provide data concerning the types of crimes committed, the offenders who commit those crimes, and how courts sentence offenders and use the guidelines. The office also provides projections of the effect on the federal prison population of proposed legislation and proposed guideline amendments. The reports are distributed to the courts, Congress, the Executive Branch, and the public.

The Office of Legislative and Public Affairs serves as the Commission's liaison with Congress on sentencing matters, monitors Congress's criminal law agenda, analyzes legislative proposals, drafts congressional testimony, and takes the lead role in responding to congressional inquiries. The office also provides services and information to other external entities, including the judiciary, Executive Branch agencies, academia, and advocacy groups. The office works closely with the Office of General Counsel on statutory interpretations and analyses.

The office is also responsible for the agency's public information functions, responding to inquiries and requests for information from the media, the public, Congress, academia, and government agencies. The office plays a primary role in coordinating the production, editing, printing, and dissemination of all Commission publications, including the Guidelines Manual and reports to Congress, and is responsible for the Commission's website and social media presence. The office also plays a key role in coordinating the Commission's public hearings.

The Office of Administration provides general administrative support to commissioners and staff regarding budget and finance, information technology, contracting, human resources, facilities, and a variety of other office activities. This office also contains the Information Systems unit, which develops and maintains the Commission's extensive information systems applications and the Commission's records management system.

Budget and Expenditures

In fiscal year 2018, the Commission received an annual appropriation of $18,699,000 toward continued fulfillment of the statutory duties set forth in the Sentencing Reform Act of 1984. The Commission did not request program increases for fiscal year 2019. The Commission continues to maximize existing resources and prioritize cost-containment and efficiency.

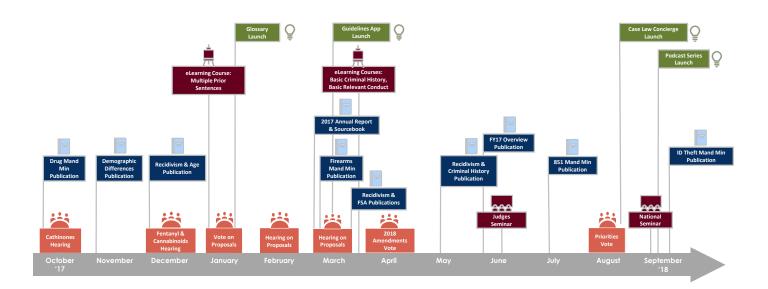

The Commission did not request program increases for FY19.

Fiscal Year 2018 Activity Overview

In fiscal year 2018, the Commission took a leading role in providing data and analysis relating to the fairness and effectiveness of sentencing and improving recidivism outcomes, with the goal of using federal resources efficiently and appropriately. The subsequent sections of this report demonstrate the Commission's commitment to these principles and to meeting its statutory requirements:

- · Conducting Research
- Collecting and Reporting Sentencing Data
- · Sentencing Policy Development
- Training and Outreach

Major Events and Product Releases Fiscal Year 2018

Conducting Research

Research is a critical component of the Commission's overall mission. The Commission's research staff regularly analyzes the current and prior fiscal years' data to identify how courts sentence offenders and use the guidelines. The Commission routinely uses these analyses when considering proposed changes to the guidelines. Similarly, the Commission publishes many analyses as a resource for policymakers and the criminal justice community.

In fiscal year 2018, the Commission continued to issue reports on the impact of statutory mandatory minimum penalties, an important issue to policymakers because more than one-fifth (21.9%) of all offenders in fiscal year 2016 were convicted of an offense carrying a mandatory minimum penalty. In fiscal year 2018, the Commission released four additional reports in its series on mandatory minimum penalties: Mandatory Minimum Penalties for Drug Offenses in the Federal Criminal Justice System; Mandatory Minimum Penalties for Firearms Offenses in the Federal Criminal Justice System; Application and Impact of 21 U.S.C. § 851: Enhanced Penalties for Federal Drug Trafficking Offenders; and Mandatory Minimum Penalties for Identity Theft Offenses in the Federal Criminal Justice System.

Each of these reports provides the prevalence of the mandatory minimum penalty studied, how often offenders receive statutory relief from the mandatory minimum penalty, the demographic breakdown of offenders affected, and the impact the mandatory minimum penalty has on sentences imposed and the population of the Federal Bureau of Prisons. In January of 2019, the Commission released its sixth and final updated report titled Mandatory Minimum Penalties for Sex Offenses in the Federal Criminal Justice System.

Mandatory Minimum Penalties for Identity Theft Offenses in the Federal Criminal Justice System

The Commission believes these reports are a valuable source of data and information as Congress continues to assess the role of mandatory minimum penalties in the federal criminal justice system.

The Commission continues to focus its research on recidivism, drawing upon partnerships across the federal criminal justice system working to improve recidivism outcomes and public safety. The Commission's ongoing series examines U.S. citizen federal offenders released from prison or placed on probation in calendar year 2005 and studies their recidivism over an eight-year follow-up period. For example, in fiscal year 2018, the Commission released The Effects of Aging on Recidivism Among Federal Offenders, which analyzed the impact of the aging process on federal offender recidivism. Also, in fiscal year 2018, the Commission released Recidivism Among Federal Offenders Receiving Retroactive Sentence Reductions: The 2011 Fair Sentencing Act Guideline Amendment. This report analyzed the recidivism rates of a group of crack cocaine offenders whose sentences were reduced pursuant to retroactive application of the guideline amendment implementing the Fair Sentencing Act of 2010 and compares their recidivism rate to a comparable group of offenders who would have been eligible to seek a reduced sentence under that guideline amendment, but who were released before its effective date after serving their full sentence.

In fiscal year 2018, the Commission also released a report titled, The Criminal History of Federal Offenders, which provided, for the first time, complete information on the number of convictions and types of offenses in the criminal histories of federal offenders sentenced in a fiscal year. Demonstrating the Commission's commitment to strategic modernization, this research utilizes technological improvements to expand the scope of information related to an offender's criminal history that provides a more complete assessment and analysis for Congress.

The Commission has begun to update the analyses in its Report to the Congress: Continuing Impact of United States v. Booker on Federal Sentencing ("2012 Booker Report"). In fiscal year 2018, the Commission published Demographic Differences in Sentencing: An Update to the 2012 Booker Report, exploring the relationship between demographic factors and sentencing outcomes. Consistent with previous reports, the Commission's research demonstrates that sentence length continues to be associated with some demographic factors such as race. Then, in January of 2019, the Commission released Intra-City Differences in Federal Sentencing Practices, which examined differences in the sentencing practices of judges located within 30 large metropolitan areas across the nation, representing judicial districts in every circuit except the D.C. Circuit.

The Commission has continued to prioritize making its data and research more easily accessible to Congress, the courts, the public, and the press. For example, in fiscal year 2018 the Commission updated and expanded its Quick Facts series, which provides concise facts about a single area of federal crime in an easy-to-read, two-page format. The Quick Facts series includes overviews of offenders convicted of offenses carrying mandatory minimum penalties, career offenders, "white-collar" offenders, drug trafficking offenders by drug type, robbery offenders, and many more.

Collecting and Reporting Sentencing Data

To conduct the type of research outlined in the previous section, the Commission collects data regarding every felony and class A misdemeanor offense sentenced each year. Sentencing courts are statutorily required to submit five sentencing documents to the Commission within 30 days of entry of judgment in a criminal case: (1) the charging document, (2) the plea agreement, (3) the Presentence Report, (4) the Judgment and Commitment Order, and (5) the Statement of Reasons form. The Commission analyzes these documents and collects information of interest and importance to policymakers and the federal criminal justice community.

The Commission received approximately 321,000 documents for 69,425 individual original sentencings that occurred in fiscal year 2018. Select highlights from fiscal year 2018 data are outlined below:

Approximately 321,000 sentencing-related documents were received and analyzed by the Commission in FY18.

- In fiscal year 2018, the courts reported 69,425 felony and Class A misdemeanor cases to the Commission. This represents an increase of 2,552 cases from the prior fiscal year, and the first increase since fiscal year 2011.
- The race of federal offenders remained largely unchanged from prior years. In fiscal year 2018, 54.3 percent of all offenders were Hispanic, 21.2 percent were White, 20.6 percent were Black, and 3.8 percent were of another race. Non-U.S. citizens accounted for 42.7 percent of all federal offenders.
- Immigration cases accounted for the largest single group of offenses in fiscal year 2018, comprising 34.4 percent of all reported cases. Cases involving drugs, firearms, and fraud were the next most common types of offenses after immigration cases. Together these four types of offenses accounted for 82.9 percent of all cases reported to the Commission in fiscal year 2018.
- Among drug cases, offenses involving methamphetamine were most common, accounting for 39.8 percent of all drug cases.
- Drug sentences remained relatively stable across all drug types in fiscal year 2018. The average length of imprisonment increased slightly from fiscal year 2017 in cases involving methamphetamines, from 91 months to 95 months, but decreased in crack cocaine cases (from 84 to 78 months), powder cocaine cases (from 75 to 73 months), and in heroin cases (from 70 months to 69 months). In fiscal year 2018, 58.0 percent of drug offenders were convicted of an offense carrying a mandatory minimum penalty, compared to 44.2 percent of drug offenders in fiscal year 2017.
- In fiscal year 2018, 75.0 percent of all offenders received sentences under the Guidelines Manual, in that the sentence was within the applicable guidelines range, or was outside the applicable guidelines range and the court cited a departure reason from the Guidelines Manual. Just over half (51.0%) of all sentences were within the guidelines range, compared to 49.1 percent in fiscal year 2017.

75% of all offenders received sentences under the Guidelines Manual in FY18.

The Commission makes its sentencing data available to the public in several ways. Analyses of the data extracted from the sentencing documents are reported in this Annual Report and Sourcebook of Federal Sentencing Statistics, which is available both in print and on the Commission's website, and its Interactive Sourcebook of Federal Sentencing Statistics, which allows users to create and customize tables and figures. The Commission also disseminates on its website key aspects of this data on a quarterly basis and provides trend analyses of the changes in federal sentencing practices over time.

As required by 28 U.S.C. § 994(g) and 18 U.S.C. § 4047, the Commission considers the impact of guideline amendments on the federal prison population. Since fiscal year 2012, the Commission has made its prison and sentencing impact analyses available to the public on its website. The Commission is also often asked by Congress to complete prison and sentencing impact assessments for proposed legislation. In addition, the Commission responds to more general data requests from Congress on issues such as drugs, immigration, fraud, firearms and sex offenses. It provides district, state-wide, and circuit data analyses to House and Senate Judiciary Committee members and, on an as-requested basis, to other members of Congress. The Commission also responds to requests for data analyses from federal judges, including specific data requests relating to pending cases.

Sentencing Policy Development

Established by the Commission, the sentencing guidelines are core to the agency's mission. They provide federal judges with fair and consistent sentencing ranges to consult at sentencing by:

- incorporating the purposes of sentencing (i.e., just punishment, deterrence, incapacitation, and rehabilitation);
- providing certainty and fairness in meeting the purposes of sentencing by avoiding unwarranted disparity among offenders with similar characteristics convicted of similar criminal conduct, while permitting sufficient judicial flexibility to take into account relevant aggravating and mitigating factors; and
- reflecting, to the extent practicable, advancement in the knowledge of human behavior as it relates to the criminal justice process.

In fiscal year 2018, the Commission adopted several amendments to the guidelines that became effective November 1, 2018. These amendments reflected a collaborative data-driven approach to federal sentencing.

In response to the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015, the Commission increased offense levels for certain social security fraud offenses. The Commission received valuable comment from the Senate Committee on Finance, the House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee, and the House of Representatives Judiciary Committee as well as the Social Security Administration. The Commission's action established an enhancement and a minimum offense level for individuals who violate certain positions of trust (e.g., health care providers, claims representatives, and others).

The Commission also approved a multipart synthetic drugs amendment, drawing upon public comment, expert testimony, and data analysis gathered during a multi-year study of synthetic drugs. Before the Commission's action, many new synthetic drugs were not referenced in the federal sentencing guidelines, which resulted in expensive and resource-intensive hearings in federal court. The Commission's actions reflected the evolving nature of these new drugs and will simplify and promote uniformity in sentencing these offenders. The amendment also included a new guideline definition of the term "fentanyl analogue" that effectively raised the guideline penalties for fentanyl analogues to a level more consistent with the statutory penalty structure. To address the severe dangers posed by fentanyl, the Commissioners also adopted a four-level sentencing enhancement for knowingly misrepresenting or knowingly marketing fentanyl or fentanyl analogues as another substance (which equates to an approximate 50 percent increase in sentence).

The multi-part synthetic drugs amendment also established drug ratios and minimum offense levels for two new classes of synthetics drugs: synthetic cathinones (often referred to as "bath salts") and synthetic cannabinoids (including, but not limited to, "K2" or "spice"). The Commission found that synthetic cathinones possessed a common chemical structure that is sufficiently similar to treat as a single class of synthetic drugs. The Commission also found that, while synthetic cannabinoids differ in chemical structure, the drugs induce similar biological responses and share similar pharmacological effects. In setting the new drug ratios, the Commission considered, among other factors, the severity of the medical harms to the user, the current ratios applied in similar cases, known trafficking behaviors, and concerns for public safety.

The Commission also added new commentary to the Guidelines Manual providing that judges should consider alternative sentencing options for "nonviolent first offenders" whose applicable guideline range falls within Zones A or B. Eligible defendants must not have any prior convictions and must not have used violence, credible threats of violence, or possessed a firearm or other dangerous weapon in the offense. This narrowly-tailored amendment is consistent with the statutory directive to the Commission in 28 U.S.C. § 994(j).

The Commission also addressed recommendations from its Tribal Issues Advisory Group regarding how tribal convictions are treated in Chapter Four of the Guidelines Manual and the definition of "court protection order" in the guidelines.

The Commission continues to review Supreme Court jurisprudence that may directly or indirectly affect the Commission's priorities and workload. For example, the Commission previously undertook an accelerated review of the guideline definition of "crime of violence" after the Supreme Court's decision in Johnson v. United States struck down as unconstitutionally vague the residual clause portion of the statutory definition of "violent felony" in the Armed Career Criminal Act. The Commission deleted the identical residual clause in the guideline definition of "crime of violence" and revised the list of enumerated offenses covered by the guideline definition. These changes were intended to simplify and reduce litigation over whether an offense qualifies as a crime of violence under the guidelines.

Since then, discrete application issues have arisen regarding the revisions as well as broader concerns raised by the Department of Justice and others that the "categorical approach" that courts apply to the guidelines' definition is overly complex and results in odd and disparate sentencing outcomes. In fiscal years 2018 and 2019, the Commission continued to consider ways to simplify this determination and ensure logical and more uniform sentencing outcomes. This ongoing effort is particularly important in light of the risk to public safety posed by violent recidivist offenders. In December of 2018, the Commission published a proposed amendment for public comment that would move the guidelines away from the categorical approach by allowing courts to consider the conduct that formed the basis of the defendant's prior convictions to determine whether the conviction was a "crime of violence." The proposed amendment would allow the court to examine the Shepard-approved documents to make this determination.

The Commission also published proposed amendments for public comment relating to recently enacted legislation, proposed revisions concerning how retroactive sentence reductions are determined when mandatory minimum penalties are present, and technical changes to the Guidelines Manual, in December of 2018.

Training and Outreach

The Commission continues to fulfill its statutory duty to provide seminars, workshops, and training programs for judges, probation officers, law clerks, prosecutors, and defense attorneys on federal sentencing issues, including application of the guidelines. In fiscal year 2018, commissioners and Commission staff conducted training programs to persons connected with the federal sentencing process from nearly all 94 federal districts, through discrete education programs, including programs for specific districts and circuits, and specialized training programs for new probation officers and Criminal Justice Act attorneys, among others.

In fiscal year 2018, the Commission conducted its third annual training seminar for judges in San Francisco, California. This program, which is specifically tailored to the needs of federal judges, was attended by more than 100 federal judges.

Each year the Commission also holds a national training seminar for a broader array of members of the federal criminal justice system. In fiscal year 2018, the Commission held its national training seminar in San Antonio, Texas, and more than 850 federal probation officers, prosecutors, defense attorneys, and judges attended. Commissioners and Commission staff also participated in academic programs, symposia, and circuit conferences as part of ongoing discussions on federal sentencing issues.

In FY18 more than 100 federal judges attended the Commission's judges seminar.

More than 850 professionals attended the Commission's national seminar.

Further, the Commission continues to develop a more robust program of distance learning through online resources. In fiscal year 2018, the Commission added numerous online resources useful to both criminal justice practitioners, and members of the public-at-large. One such resource is a new Case Law Concierge that allows users to search for sentencing-related cases by federal circuit or training topic. Another helpful new resource is the Commission's Glossary of Sentencing Terms.

The Commission also launched a podcast series, Sentencing Practice Talk, designed to serve as a tool for those seeking a deeper understanding of federal sentencing practice. Podcast episodes range from answers to frequently asked questions received on the Commission's HelpLine, to discussions on how recent case law developments affect sentencing. Sentencing Practice Talk aids practitioners in proper application of the guidelines by covering topics such as criminal history, base offense level, relevant conduct, conspiracy offenses, revocations, grouping of multiple counts, and more. In September 2018, the month it launched, the podcast page was visited by nearly 1,000 users. The Commission anticipates engagement will continue to expand as the podcast is updated with episodes on relevant issues. The Commission also launched a quarterly newsletter, Insider Express, which is released quarterly both online and via email to interested constituents. The newsletter contains regular updates on Commission work, guideline application pointers, case law updates, and answers to frequently asked questions.

Webinars and webcasts were yet another way the Commission offered training and education services more accessibly, while simultaneously keeping costs low. The Commission released an eLearning course on sentencing illegal reentry offenders, who comprise about one-third of federal offenders. Two other eLearning courses in the Commission's growing online education program included an introduction to basic relevant conduct analysis and basic criminal history.

The Commission also released an updated version of its primer, Federal Sentencing: The Basics, which provides judges and practitioners a general overview of the federal sentencing process, and pairs with an updated interactive eLearning course.

In addition to these newer resources, the Commission continues to staff a HelpLine that responds to dozens of questions each day from judges, practitioners, and probation officers regarding proper guideline application.

The Commission also continues to expand its social media presence. Using its social media accounts on Twitter and LinkedIn, as well as a cloud communications tool, the Commission provides frequent updates to the interested public on its policy work and research publications. In fiscal year 2018, the Commission's website received over 1.3 million hits and averaged approximately 24,000 users each month.

In fiscal year 2018, the Commission also launched a free interactive web-based application that enables users to access the full Guidelines Manual on mobile devices, desktop, or laptop computers. The app has been well-received by practitioners. Enhanced features will be added in fiscal years 2019 and 2020.

The Commission's website received over 1.3 million hits in FY18.

Summary

The United States Sentencing Commission continues to fulfill its statutory responsibilities, including evaluating the fairness and effectiveness of the sentencing guidelines, advising Congress on federal sentencing policy, and serving as a clearinghouse of timely sentencing research and data. Furthermore, the Commission is committed to providing this current data and guidance to federal judges through training and online information resources.

The Commission's efforts are calibrated to protect public safety and provide that the statutory purposes of sentencing are achieved. The Commission will continue these efforts going forward and is prioritizing ways to make the guidelines work better, thus promoting efficiency and effectiveness and reducing unnecessary litigation.

Introduction to the Revised Sourcebook of Federal Sentencing Statistics

This is the twenty-third edition of the United States Sentencing Commission's Sourcebook of Federal Sentencing Statistics. This Sourcebook contains descriptive statistics on the application of the federal sentencing guidelines and provides selected district, circuit, and national sentencing data. The volume covers fiscal year 2018 (October 1, 2017, through September 30, 2018, hereinafter "2018"). This Sourcebook, together with the 2018 Annual Report, constitutes the annual report referenced in 28 U.S.C. § 997, as well as the analysis, recommendations, and accounting to Congress referenced in 28 U.S.C. § 994(w)(3). The Commission received documentation on 69,425 federal felony and Class A misdemeanor cases involving individual offenders in fiscal year 2018. The Commission coded and edited information from the sentencing documents in these cases into its comprehensive, computerized data collection system.

The Commission first released sentencing data in its 1988 Annual Report and reported this data annually until 1996. That year, the Commission compiled sentencing data into a new publication, the Sourcebook of Federal Sentencing Statistics. Over the next two decades new tables and figures were added to the Sourcebook, but the overall structure of the book has not changed until now.

The 2018 Sourcebook reflects a year-long process to update and revise the way the Commission reports sentencing data to the public. We have endeavored to make the Sourcebook more comprehensive, more informative, and easier to use. Many of the existing tables have been revised to reflect current sentencing practices. The figures have been updated to make them easier to understand and are now presented in color in the printed Sourcebook. Some figures and tables have been removed so that the data on them can be presented in new ways. Trend analyses have also been added to the major sections so that readers can see how sentencing patterns have changed over the last ten years. Additional analyses regarding drug and immigration crimes are presented, and new sections regarding firearms and economic offenses have been added, in order to give readers more complete information about the most frequently-occurring federal crimes. The Organizational Offender section of the Sourcebook has also been expanded, giving readers more detailed information about the organizations sentenced under Chapter Eight of the Guidelines Manual and the offenses they commit. Also, Appendix B, which provides sentencing data for each judicial district has been updated to reflect current sentencing practices. Finally, many of the titles and terms used in the Sourcebook have been modified to adopt a "plain language" approach.

One major revision to the methodology used in the Sourcebook involves the way the Commission analyzes the sentence imposed relative to the sentencing range for the case as determined under the Commission's Guidelines Manual. Beginning with this version of the Sourcebook, sentences now are grouped into two broad categories: Sentences Under the Guidelines Manual and Variances. The former category comprises all cases in which the sentence imposed was within the applicable guideline range or, if outside the range, where the court cited one or more of the departure reasons in the Guidelines Manual as a basis for the sentence. Variance cases are those in which the sentence was outside the guideline range (either above or below) and where the court did not cite any guideline reason for the sentence. Data for important subgroups within these two categories are also reported.

Other methodological changes are reflected in this version of the Sourcebook. Principal among them is the way cases are assigned to a "type of crime" (previously called offense type). Beginning with this report, the guideline (or guidelines) that the court applied in determining the sentence will determine the crime type category to which a case is assigned. Previously, the maximum penalty provided under the statute of conviction was used for this categorization. In cases where the offender was convicted of more than one offense, the Commission's prior methodology occasionally assigned a case to an offense category that was different from the type of guideline that the court applied in determining the sentence. Beginning with fiscal year 2018 data, cases with more than one count of conviction will be assigned to the type of crime that aligns with the guideline that produced the highest sentencing range. Also, the names of some of the crime type categories have been revised and some outdated categories have been removed from the tables and figures.

Another important methodological change is that sentences are capped at 470 months for all analyses. This is consistent with the Commission's long-standing practice of assigning a value of 470 months to any life imprisonment sentence. Now, determinate sentences of more than 470 months will not have a value greater than life imprisonment sentences.

The Drug Offenses section of the Sourcebook has been revised. Most of the analyses in that section now focus only on drug trafficking crimes. Also, data on the use of enhanced penalties in drug trafficking cases where the offender is a recidivist are included for the first time.

Finally, cases involving the production of child pornography have been assigned to the sexual abuse crime type. Previously, these cases were assigned to the child pornography offense type in the Sourcebook. This change reflects the way in which the production of child pornography is treated under the sentencing guidelines.

Because of these methodological changes, direct comparisons between data for fiscal year 2018 and later years cannot always be made to data reported in the Sourcebook for years before fiscal year 2018.

Background

The Commission collects and analyzes data on federal sentences to support its various activities. As authorized by Congress, the Commission's numerous research responsibilities include: (1) the establishment of a research and development program to serve as a clearinghouse and information center for the collection, preparation, and dissemination of information on federal sentencing practices; (2) the publication of data concerning the sentencing process; (3) the systematic collection and dissemination of information concerning sentences actually imposed and the relationship of such sentences to the factors set forth in section 3553(a) of title 18, United States Code; and (4) the systematic collection and dissemination of information regarding the effectiveness of sentences imposed.²

The Commission maintains a comprehensive, computerized data collection system which forms the basis for its clearinghouse of federal sentencing information and which contributes to the agency's research mission.

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 994(w), the chief judge of each district is required to ensure that, within 30 days of entry of judgment in a criminal case, the sentencing court submits a report of sentence to the Commission that includes: (1) the Judgment and Commitment Order, (2) the written Statement of Reasons, (3) any plea agreement, (4) the indictment or other charging document, (5) the Presentence Report, and (6) any other information the Commission requests.

Data from these documents are extracted and coded for input into various databases. It should be noted that data collection is a dynamic rather than a static process. When research questions arise, the Commission either analyzes existing data or adds information to its data collection system.

In 2012, the Commission began making its datafiles available through the Commission's website.³ The Commission's computerized datafiles, without individual identifiers, are also available through the Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research at the University of Michigan (ICPSR).⁴

Datafiles

For each case in its Offender Datafile, the Commission routinely collects case identifiers, sentencing data, demographic variables, statutory information, the complete range of court guideline decisions, and departure and variance information. Throughout 2018, the Commission continued to add data elements to its extensive computerized datafile on defendants sentenced under the guidelines. In addition to its standard data collection, the Commission often codes additional variables to study various distinct issues (e.g., drug offenses, criminal history).

^{2 28} U.S.C. §§ 995(a)(12) and (14) – (16).

⁴ The Consortium's website address is http://www.icpsr.umich.edu/icpsrweb/index.jsp.

The Commission's 2018 Offender Datafile contains documentation on 69,425 felony and Class A misdemeanor cases in which an individual offender was sentenced between October 1, 2017, and September 30, 2018. A "case" is defined as one sentencing event for an individual defendant.

The Organizational Datafile contains documentation on organizations sentenced pursuant to Chapter Eight of the Guidelines Manual in 2018. The Commission collects available data on organizational structure, size, and economic viability; offense of conviction; mode of adjudication; sanctions imposed (including probation and court-ordered compliance and ethics programs); and application of the sentencing guidelines. The Commission received information on 99 organizations sentenced pursuant to Chapter Eight of the Guidelines Manual.

While the 2018 reporting year includes cases sentenced between October 1, 2017, and September 30, 2018, it is important to note that the individual offender and organizational data collected and analyzed in the 2018 Annual Report and Sourcebook of Federal Sentencing Statistics reflect cases for that fiscal year reported to the Commission (i.e., guidelines cases for which the courts forwarded appropriate documentation to the Commission) by February 25, 2019.

The Appeals Datafile tracks appellate review of sentencing decisions. Information captured in this module includes district, circuit, date of opinion, sentencing issues, and the appellate court's disposition. The Commission also tracks final opinions and orders, both published and unpublished, in federal criminal appeals. In 2018, the Commission gathered information on 7,038 cases decided by the courts of appeal. Cases involving co-appellants are treated as separate appeals for statistical purposes.

The Commission implemented a data collection system to track resentencings and other modifications of sentence in 2008. The information collected includes judicial district, reason for resentencing, new sentence, and guideline application information, if available. Information is collected on eight types of resentencings and other modifications of sentence. In 2018, the Commission received documentation on 3,241 resentencings and other modifications of sentence.

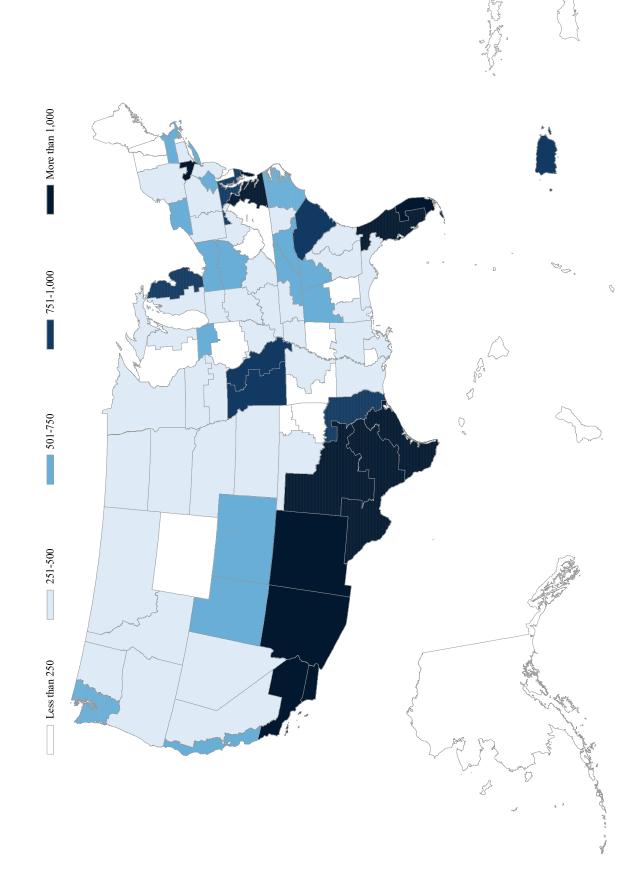

The 2018 Annual Report and Sourcebook of Federal Sentencing Statistics, quarterly updates to federal sentencing data, and the Commission's Interactive Sourcebook are available on the Commission's website at https://www.ussc.gov/research.

The Commission also has an Interactive Sourcebook, in which sentencing data can be tailored to any district or group of districts, or to a circuit or group of circuits. Users can also change the fiscal year of the data presented, or group multiple years of data into one analysis. All analyses using the online tool can be saved into a .pdf format for later use or printing.

Of the 69,425 cases, the court sentenced the offender to pay a fine or make restitution in 13,965 cases. The total number of cases used to calculate amounts of payment ordered (12,390) is less than the total number of cases receiving fines and/or restitution (13,965) due to the exclusion of cases for which a fine and/or restitution was ordered, but the amount was not specified. Fine information includes either fines and/or the cost of supervision. Descriptions of variables used in this table are provided in Appendix A.

² In cases of joint and several restitution, the full amount of restitution is attributed to each offender, which may result in overinflation of the total amount of restitution reported for all offenders.

Total number of guidelines applied:

72,442

Number of cases with at least one guideline applied:

65,473

Of the 69,425 cases, 3,952 were excluded due to missing guideline applied. The total for any guideline can exceed that for primary guideline because several guidelines may be applied in a case, but only one primary guideline. For the 'As Any Guideline' section, each unique guideline is only counted once in a case. Descriptions of variables used in this table are provided in Appendix A.

² In these cases, the offender was convicted of violating 18 U.S.C. § 1028A (Aggravated Identity Theft) as the only count or counts of conviction. The Guidelines Manual provides punishment for this type of offense under §2B1.6.

1 Multiple attributions may be made on the Statement of Reasons (SOR). Therefore, the numbers reported in this table may exceed the number of total cases. For example, among SORs with an attribution, 14,461 cases indicated more than one attribution. Only offenders whose sentence is outside the guideline range are included in this table. Descriptions of variables used in this table are provided in Appendix A.

² For cases in which the court submitted a SOR form with a revision date of 11/15 or later, information for these categories was taken from Part V.C. of the SOR. For cases in which the court submitted the prior version of the SOR form, the information was taken from Part V.B. of the SOR form.

² The 'Probation Ordered' category consists of cases in which at least one month of probation was ordered. The 'Probation Not Ordered' category consists of cases in which less than one month of probation was ordered, or no probation was ordered.

³ Organizations in this category were unable to pay either a portion of the fine or the entire fine.

CULPABILITY FACTORS APPLIED TO DETERMINE FINES IMPOSED ON ORGANIZATIONAL OFFENDERS¹ Fiscal Year 2018

TYPE OF APPEAL

DISPOSITION OF SENTENCING APPEALS^{2,3}

² Of the 96 cases affirmed in part and reversed in part, 87 (90.6%) cases were remanded to the district court.

 $^{^{3}}$ Of the 448 cases reversed, 448 (100.0%) were remanded to the district court.

Often more than one issue was appealed; consequently, the number of guidelines or other issues listed is more than the number of cases appealed by the offender and the percent column (%) does not add to 100%. If more than one issue involving a guideline was appealed in the same appeal that guideline was counted only once. The 'Other Guideline' category includes all guidelines appealed less than three times. Descriptions of variables used in this table are provided in Appendix A.

Based on 4,135 appeals cases where the sentence imposed was at least one of the reasons for appeal. Of these 4,135 cases, 3,237 were appeals of the original sentence. These cases were merged with the U.S. Sentencing Commission's Monitoring Datafiles from 1989-2018 (MONFY89, MONFY90, USSCFY91-USSCFY18). Of the 3,237 cases, 62 could not be matched with its original case. Of 3,175 matched cases, 2,128 were sentenced in Fiscal Years 2017 and 2018 and had updated data on the type of crime. Descriptions of variables used in this table are provided in Appendix A.

APPENDIX A

Descriptions of Datafiles and Variables

Introduction

The Commission's research program is based on data from the Federal courts. The Commission collects data regarding every felony and class A misdemeanor offense sentenced each year. To facilitate this data collection, the courts are statutorily required to submit five sentencing documents to the Commission within 30 days of entry of judgment in a criminal case: (1) the charging document (information/indictment), (2) the plea agreement (if any), (3) the Presentence Report (if any), (4) the Judgment and Commitment Order, and (5) the Statement of Reasons form. The Commission analyzes these documents and collects information of interest and importance to policymakers and the federal criminal justice community.

Tables in this report use the Commission's datafile, USSCFY18, which includes information on the 69,425 individual offenders sentenced between October 1, 2017, through September 30, 2018, for whom sentencing documents were received as of February 25, 2019. This report also provides data on 99 organizational offenders sentenced during that period. Also, this report provides data on 3,241 offenders resentenced by the district court or whose sentence was modified in some other way during that period. Finally, this report provides data on 6,901 appeals cases decided during fiscal year 2018.

Given the nature of the datafile and reporting requirements, the following are not included: cases initiated but for which no convictions were obtained, offenders convicted but who have not been sentenced, and offenders sentenced but for whom no sentencing documents were submitted to the Commission. Cases in which a sentence of death was imposed also are not available in this dataset as the sentencing guidelines do not apply to those cases.

Note that for all tables, total percentages may not add up to 100 percent due to rounding.

Variables

The following section describes the variables used in this report.

Age

The Age of the offender on the day of sentencing is calculated using the date of sentencing as reported in the Judgment and Commitment Order and the offender's date of birth as reported either in the Presentence Report or in the case submission information provided by the court when submitting the case to the Commission. Offenders under the age of 18 at the time of sentencing were charged as adults for a federal felony or Class A misdemeanor.

Anders Brief

Anders Brief cases are those in which the defendant's counsel files a motion for leave to withdraw from representation, and asserts that counsel has reviewed the case and concludes there are no non-frivolous grounds for appeal; whereupon the appellate court, after independently reviewing the record and agreeing that the case is wholly frivolous, affirms the sentence and dismisses the appeal, and grants counsel's motion to withdraw. See Anders v. California, 386 U.S. 738 (1967).

Any Guideline

The Commission collects guideline application information on up to four guidelines in a single computation (more than one guideline can be applied through the cross-reference application in the Guidelines Manual). If a guideline is recorded in any of the four collected fields, then it is reported as "any guideline." Note that counts for this category may exceed the total number of offenders in any fiscal year because each offender may have multiple guideline computations and/or multiple reference guidelines applied.

Appeals

Appeals data are derived from analyses of opinions and orders from the courts of appeals. For purposes of the appeals data, an appeals case is one in which a federal court of appeals has issued an opinion or order. Opinions and orders submitted by the courts are collected and coded. All appeals cases are coded for identifying data, such as parties, disposition, date, and circuit. In cases in which the appellate court reverses or remands a sentencing issue, the sentencing issue is coded. Conviction issues are not coded.

Attribution Category for Sentences Outside the Range

All categories replicate the list of checkboxes available on the Statement of Reasons (SOR) form. Not all checkbox categories are available in both the departure section and sentences outside the guideline system section on this form and multiple checkboxes may be indicated in a single case so that totals in a table may exceed the total number of cases. The Commission uses these checkboxes in determining government sponsorship: all cases in which one of the pursuant to a plea agreement boxes is indicated are attributed to the government. Additionally, cases where a USSG §5K1.1, USSG §5K3.1, or other government motion checkbox was indicated in the pursuant to a motion not in a plea agreement section are also attributed to one of the government motion categories. Additionally, other types of SOR forms may indicate sponsorship in writing, and these attributions are also included in the appropriate category.

Circuit

Information on judicial Circuit is generated using the location of the judicial district in which the offender was sentenced.

Citizenship Status

Information on the Citizenship Status of offenders is obtained from the Presentence Report. Offenders are categorized as one of the following: "U.S. citizen," "resident alien," "illegal alien," "extradited alien," or "non-U.S. citizen, alien status unknown." The latter four categories are collapsed into the category of "non-U.S. citizen."

Conviction Type

Sentencing classification is defined in 18 U.S.C. § 3559(a). The federal sentencing guidelines apply to felony cases and Class A Misdemeanors (see USSG §1B1.9). For this reason, no information about petty offenses is recorded in the Commission's datafiles.

Criminal History Category

Criminal History Category is derived from the Statement of Reasons provided by the sentencing court. Criminal History Category is taken from the Presentence Report when the Statement of Reasons is not available. While the court may disagree with Presentence Report information, the Criminal History Category is the same in the vast majority of cases for which both documents were received.

District

Information on the judicial District in which sentencing occurred is obtained from the Judgment and Commitment Order.

Document Submission Rates

Five documents are represented in the document submission table: Judgment and Commitment Order (J&C), Presentence Report (PSR), Statement of Reasons (SOR), indictment/information (Ind), and plea agreements (Plea). The J&C, SOR, and PSR generally are submitted in a standardized format. PSRs waived by the court are indicated in a separate column. Standardized forms for the SORs are most frequently submitted; however, transcripts or partial SORs and/or transcripts from the sentencing hearing are also included as Statement of Reasons Received. Cases in which the Commission was unable to determine definitively whether the offender's guilty plea was entered pursuant to a written agreement are excluded from the Plea totals. The total documents received column is derived from adding the total number of received documents from the J&C, PSR, SOR, Ind, and Plea columns.

Downward Departure

Downward Departure consists of cases in which the sentence imposed was below the applicable guideline range and for which the court cited a reason on Part V of the Statement of Reasons form (Departures Pursuant to the Guidelines Manual). In these cases, the court may also have cited 18 U.S.C. § 3553 or factors or reasons specifically prohibited in the provisions, policy statements, or commentary of the sentencing guidelines as additional reasons. This category includes departures that result from government motions as well as from motions by the parties.

Downward Variance

Downward Variance consists of cases in which the sentence imposed was below the applicable guideline range and for which the court cited a reason on Part VI of the Statement of Reasons form (Court Determination for a Variance). This category includes variances which result from government motions as well as from motions by the defendant.

Drug Trafficking Guidelines

Drug Trafficking Guidelines information is obtained from the Presentence Report and is based on the guidelines in USSG Chapter Two, Part D. The seven guidelines (USSG §§2D1.1, 2D1.2, 2D1.5, 2D1.6, 2D1.8, 2D1.10, and 2D1.14) represent the guidelines in Chapter Two, Part D that utilize the drug quantity table in USSG §2D1.1 (Drug Trafficking) to determine the base offense level.

Education

Information on Education of the offender is obtained from the Presentence Report and is collapsed into general categories. Technical, military, and vocational training as well as course work at community colleges is included in the Some College category. A general equivalency degree (GED) is included in the High School Graduate category.

Extent of Decrease

Extent of Decrease is calculated based on the difference between the sentence length (including any months of alternative confinement as defined in USSG §5C1.1) and the guideline minimum (including any statutory trumps) for below range cases. Life imprisonment sentences and cases where the guideline minimum is zero months or life are excluded from all extent of decrease calculations due to the logical difficulty in calculating a decrease from these values. High values of the guideline minimum are capped at 470 months for analytical purposes.

Extent of Increase

Extent of Increase is calculated based on the difference between the guideline maximum (including any statutory trumps) and the sentence length (including any months of alternative confinement as defined in USSG §5C1.1) for above range cases. Life sentences and cases where the guideline minimum is life are excluded from all extent of increase calculations due to the logical difficulty in calculating an increase from these values. High values of the guideline minimum are capped at 470 months for analytical purposes.

Federal Offenders Sentenced

Each Federal Offender Sentenced or case, as recorded by the Commission, involves a single sentencing event for a single offender. Multiple counts of conviction, including counts of conviction charged on multiple indictments, are considered a single sentencing event if a single sentence was imposed for the counts on the same day at the same time by the same judge. A single offender may account for more than one case if the offender was involved in more than one sentencing event during the fiscal year. Data on co-defendants in the same sentencing will appear as separate cases.

Fines and Restitution

Fines and Restitution information is obtained from the Judgment and Commitment Order (J&C). Fine information may also include cost of supervision. Cases that receive no fine or restitution are not included in the calculation of the means. The number of cases upon which the mean is based may not equal the number of offenders ordered to pay fines and/or restitution; this is due to the failure of some J&Cs to specify the dollar amount ordered. The median of payments ordered reflects the amount located at the fiftieth percentile of all amounts ordered, excluding cases in which the amount was indeterminable or zero.

Gender

Gender of the offender is obtained from the Presentence Report.

Government Motion (Variance)

Government Motion (Variance) consists of cases in which the sentence imposed was below the applicable guideline range pursuant to a government motion and for which the court cited a reason on Part VI of the Statement of Reasons (SOR) form (Court Determination for a Variance). These cases are determined by a yearly case review by Commission staff of both the reasons for the below range sentence and the coding by Commission staff of any indication of government sponsorship as indicated on the SOR form for below range cases. The SOR form has specific checkboxes to indicate the origins of the variance, but cases that do not use this form may also indicate in writing the origins of the variance. Additionally, all cases with one or more of the following reasons were classified as being sponsored by the government regardless of whether the SOR indicated sponsorship: pursuant to a plea agreement (binding, non-binding, or unknown), fast track, savings to the government, early plea, waiver of indictment and/or appeal, other government motion, global disposition, due to stipulations, facilitated early release of a material witness, joint recommendation, and large number of immigration cases. This category does not include cases with USSG §5K1.1 Substantial Assistance departures or USSG §5K3.1 Early Disposition Program (EDP) departures.

Guideline Sentencing Range

The Guideline Sentencing Range is taken from the Statement of Reasons provided by the sentencing court. Alternatively, if the Statement of Reasons is missing, then the information is taken from the Presentence Report.

For tables in this report, unless otherwise indicated, the guideline sentencing range does not take into account applicable statutory restrictions on either the maximum or the minimum of the range; therefore, it may differ from the available range, which does take into account the statutory restrictions.

Length of Imprisonment

For cases in which a term of imprisonment was imposed, Length of Imprisonment reports the mean and median terms of imprisonment imposed in months. Length of imprisonment also includes any time served amounts and imprisonment under USSG §5G1.3. This information is obtained from the Judgment and Commitment Order (J&C). Mean and median imprisonment lengths are rounded to the nearest month.

Any portion of a sentence that is an alternative confinement as described in USSG §5C1.1 is excluded. Cases in which a term of imprisonment is ordered, but where the length is indeterminable, also are excluded. When sentences are expressed as "time served" on the J&C, Commission staff uses the dates in federal custody to determine the length of time served provided the offender has been in custody the entire time. If the offender has been in and out of custody, or the start date is unclear or missing, then the Commission assigns a value of one day as a minimal time served amount for these cases.

In cases where the court imposes a sentence of life imprisonment, a numeric value is necessary to include these cases in any analysis. Accordingly, life sentences are reported as 470 months, a length consistent with the average life expectancy of federal criminal offenders given the average age of federal offenders. Sentences of greater than 470 months are also reported as 470 months. The footnote in the relevant tables and figures indicates when this occurs.

Length of Supervised Release

For cases in which a term of supervised release was imposed, Length of Supervised Release reports the mean and median terms of supervised release imposed in months. This information is obtained from the Judgment and Commitment Order. Cases in which a term of supervised release is ordered, but where the length is indeterminable, are excluded. In cases where the court imposes a supervised release term of lifetime supervision, a numeric value is necessary to include these cases in any sentence length analysis. Accordingly, life terms of supervised release are reported as 470 months, a length consistent with the Commission's assignment of 470 months for life imprisonment sentences.

Mandatory Minimum Penalties

Information on Mandatory Minimum Penalties is obtained from the Presentence Report and represents the assessment of the probation officer. The sentencing court may alter this mandatory minimum penalty information; occasionally, such changes are not reflected in the documents received by the Commission.

Mode of Conviction

Information on Mode of Conviction is obtained from the Judgment and Commitment Order. Offenders sentenced subsequent to a plea of guilty or nolo contendere are included in the Plea category. Offenders sentenced subsequent to a trial by judge or jury are included in the Trial category. Rare cases involving both a plea and a trial are included in the Trial category.

Non-Government Departure

Non-Government Departure consists of cases in which the sentence imposed was outside the applicable guideline range and for which the court cited a reason on Part V of the Statement of Reasons form (Departures Pursuant to the Guidelines Manual) other than USSG §5K1.1 or USSG §5K3.1, and where the government did not initiate, propose, or stipulate to the sentence.

Non-Government Variance

Non-Government Variance consists of cases in which the sentence imposed was outside the applicable guideline range and for which the court cited a reason on Part VI of the Statement of Reasons form (Court Determination for a Variance), and where the government did not initiate, propose, or stipulate to the sentence.

Non-Prison Sentence

Non-Prison Sentence includes sentences including probation and/or any alternative confinement, as described in USSG §5C1.1 (i.e., the entire sentence was not incarceration in jail/prison only).

Number of Employees

The Number of Employees identifies the number of persons employed by an organizational offender. This information is obtained from the Presentence Report. The number includes full-time workers, part-time workers, hourly workers, seasonal workers, and contractors. If the organization has undergone a significant down-sizing since the offense was detected by the authorities, the number of employees at the time of the offense is used for this variable.

Offense Level

The final Offense Level used in these tables is taken from the Statement of Reasons provided by the sentencing court. Alternatively, if the Statement of Reasons is missing, the offense level is taken from the Presentence Report.

Organizations

Organization is a "person other than an individual." See 18 U.S.C. § 18. The term includes corporations, partnerships, associations, joint-stock companies, unions, trusts, pension funds, unincorporated organizations, governments and political subdivisions thereof, and non-profit organizations.

Other Government Motion (Downward Departure)

Other Government Motion is determined by a yearly case review by Commission staff of both the reasons for the below range sentence and the coding by Commission staff of any indication of government sponsorship as indicated on the Statement of Reasons (SOR) for below range cases. The SOR form has specific checkboxes to indicate the origins of the departure, but cases that do not use this form may also indicate in writing the origins of the departure. Additionally, all cases with one or more of the following reasons were classified as being sponsored by the government regardless of whether the SOR indicated sponsorship: pursuant to a plea agreement (binding, non-binding, or unknown), fast track, savings to the government, early plea, waiver of indictment and/or appeal, other government motion, global disposition, due to stipulations, facilitated early release of a material witness, joint recommendation, and large number of immigration cases. This category does not include cases with USSG §5K3.1 Early Disposition Program (EDP) departures or USSG §5K1.1 Substantial Assistance departures.

Ownership Structure

The Ownership Structure identifies the legal status of an organizational offender. This information is obtained from the Presentence Report. If an organization is incorporated but is not openly traded, it is classified as "Closely-held or Private." If the financial statements in the presentence investigation report are termed "unaudited," then the company is also classified as "Closely-held or Private."

Position of Sentence

The Position of Sentence describes within-range guideline sentences in terms of their relative positions within their applicable guideline ranges. Guideline range information is taken from the Statement of Reasons form and sentence information is taken from the Judgement and Commitment Order.

The Position of Sentence is determined by dividing the available range in half. This allows a sentence to fall into one of five distinct categories: the guideline minimum; the lowerhalf of the range (when not at the guideline minimum); the exact midpoint of the range; the upper-half of the range (when not at the guideline maximum) and the guideline maximum. The "available range" is the guideline range with applicable statutory restrictions on either the maximum or the minimum of the range taken into account. For cases in which USSG §5C1.2 was applied, in accordance with the provisions of the guideline, the statutory restrictions on the minimum of the range are removed according to 18 U.S.C. § 3553(f).

In cases in which the sentence is located outside the available sentencing range, departure and/or variance information is provided as reported by the sentencing court. Differences in the number and percentage of cases in each category may differ from other tables presented in this report; this is due to the exclusion of any case missing both complete information from the Statement of Reasons and information on statutory minima and maxima.

Primary Drug Type

Information on Primary Drug Type is obtained from the Presentence Report, Judgment and Commitment Order, or plea agreement. It is recorded only if at least one of the statutes of conviction recorded by the Commission is an offense under title 21 of the United States Code or an offense under another title when the underlying conduct involves a controlled substance. Information about type of drug in the text and tables is derived from the primary drug type (i.e., the type that produces the highest base offense level).

The category Fentanyl are those cases that involve Alpha-Methylfentanyl. The category Marijuana includes Hashish and Hashish oil. The category Methamphetamine includes pure (actual) methamphetamine, "Ice," methamphetamine mixture, and methamphetamine precursors sentenced under any drug trafficking guideline other than USSG §2D1.11 (for example ephedrine and pseudoephedrine). All drug types not listed separately in this report are collapsed into the "Other" drug category.

Primary Guideline

When more than one sentencing guideline is applied in a case, the Primary Guideline is the guideline that has the highest adjusted offense level (this includes the Base Offense Level, all applicable Specific Offense Characteristics, and Chapter Three Adjustments prior to the application of Multiple Count Units).

Race

Information on Race of the offender is obtained from the Presentence Report in separate categories of race and ethnicity (White, Black, Native American or Alaskan Native, Asian or Pacific Islander, Multiracial, and "Other"). Ethnicity data indicates whether an offender is of Hispanic origin. For purposes of this report, offenders whose ethnic background is designated as Hispanic are represented as Hispanic in all tables regardless of racial background. The Other race category includes offenders of Native American or Alaskan Native, Asian or Pacific Islander, Multiracial, and "Other" origin.

Reasons for Sentences Outside the Guideline Range

Reasons for Sentences Outside the Guideline Range are obtained from the Statement of Reasons when available. Because courts often provide more than one reason for sentencing outside the guideline range, the frequencies on these tables may add up to more than the number of cases.

Resentencings and Other Modification of Sentence

Using information submitted by the district courts, Resentencings and Other Modifications of Sentence are classified into eight different categories:

Correction of Sentence on Remand (18 U.S.C. § 3742(f)(1) and (2)): Cases in which the original sentence is remanded to the district court by a court of appeals. The possible grounds for this include: (1) the sentence violated the law, (2) the guidelines were incorrectly applied, (3) the sentence is outside the applicable guideline range and the court failed to adequately explain why, (4) the sentence is outside the applicable guideline range and the court relied upon an impermissible reason, (5) the sentence is outside the applicable guideline range and the court departed to an unreasonable degree, or (6) there was no applicable guideline and the sentence is plainly unreasonable;

Direct Motion to District Court Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3559(c)(7): Cases in which an offender received an aggravated penalty imposed under 18 U.S.C. § 3559(c)(7) at the time of original sentence and where a prior conviction for a serious violent felony or serious drug offense that triggered the aggravated penalty was overturned because it was (1) unconstitutional, (2) the offender was actually innocent, or (3) the offender was pardoned because of innocence;

Direct Motion to District Court Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2255: Cases in which a district court determines that (1) the original sentence was imposed in violation of the Constitution or the law, (2) the court lacked jurisdiction to impose the sentence, (3) the sentence was greater than the maximum sentence allowed by the law, or (4) the sentence is otherwise subject to collateral attack;

Modification of Imposed Term of Imprisonment for Extraordinary and Compelling Reasons (18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(1)): Cases in which the district court reduces an original sentence for extraordinary and compelling reasons or because the offender is at least 70 years old, has served at least 30 years for the offense for which the offender is currently imprisoned, and the Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP) has determined that the offender is not a danger to the safety of any person or the community;

Modification of Imposed Term of Imprisonment for Retroactive Amendments to the Sentencing Guidelines (18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2)): Cases in which a district court reduces the sentence for an offender who was sentenced based on a sentencing range that later was lowered by the United States Sentencing Commission and where the Commission voted to apply the lowered penalty retroactively. This reduction can occur through a motion filed by the offender, the director of the BOP, or upon the court's own motion;

Modification of Restitution Order (18 U.S.C. § 3664): Cases in which the court modifies any part of a judgment ordering restitution be paid to victims;

Reduction of Sentence for Changed Circumstances (Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 35(b)): Cases in which the government files a motion after the original sentence is imposed requesting the court to reduce that sentence because the offender provided substantial assistance to the government; and Unknown Type of Resentencing: Cases in which a resentencing has occurred but where the type of resentencing cannot be determined.

Safety Valve

Safety Valve cases are identified based upon the application of the criteria set forth in subdivisions (1)-(5) of subsection (a) of USSG §5C1.2 as described in the Statement of Reasons or Presentence Report. These criteria are considered as a specific offense characteristic in cases where USSG §2D1.1 or USSG §2D1.11 is the sentencing guideline.

The application of this specific offense characteristic requires that the offender meet the criteria set forth in subdivisions (1)-(5) of subsection (a) of USSG §5C1.2, which are the same criteria as in 18 U.S.C. § 3553(f). Section 3553(f) requires courts to sentence an offender without regard to any otherwise applicable mandatory minimum penalty when the criteria are met. Additionally, offenders meeting this criteria receive a reduction of two offense levels pursuant to USSG §2D1.1(b)(17) or USSG §2D1.11(b)(6). This two-level reduction can occur even if no mandatory minimum penalty might otherwise apply in the case. Both types of Safety Valve application are accounted for in the Sourcebook tables. In a small number of cases the court may not give the two-level reduction but does sentence the offender without regard to an otherwise applicable mandatory minimum penalty.

Because of the continuing refinement of the guidelines, the position of this specific offense characteristic notation within USSG §2D1.1 may vary from year to year. In the 2016 Guidelines Manual, the most recent manual used on the fiscal year 2018 datafile, this adjustment was identified at USSG §2D1.1(b)(17) and at USSG §2D1.11(b)(6).

Sentence Appeals Disposition

Data is derived from analysis of opinions and orders from the courts of appeals. The appeals disposition code indicates the disposition of the case. Affirmed cases are cases in which an appellate court holds that the judgment of the court below is correct and should stand. Reversed cases are those in which an appellate court sets aside, annuls, vacates, or changes to the contrary the decision of a lower court. Affirmed and Reversed cases are cases in which an appellate court affirmed one or more issues and reversed one or more of the issues that were appealed. Remanded cases are those in which the appellate court sent the case back to the lower court to address the issue under appeal. Dismissed cases are those an appellate court terminates without a complete trial and without issuing a holding. A dismissal of an appeal places the parties in the same condition as if no appeal had been taken or allowed, and thus acts as a confirmation of the judgment of the court below.

Sentencing Issues Appealed

Data about the issue or issues appealed are derived from analyses of opinions and orders from the courts of appeals. Each sentencing issue that is reversed or remanded by the appellate court is coded by the guideline involved and description of the particular issue addressed within that guideline. Challenges related to sentencing, but not to guideline application, are coded under categories reserved for "constitutional issues" or "other general sentencing issues."

Sentence Imposed or Sentence Length

Sentence Imposed or Sentence Length reports the mean and median terms of the sentence imposed in months. It also includes any time served amounts and imprisonment under USSG §5G1.3. This information is obtained from the Judgment and Commitment Order (J&C). Mean and median sentence lengths are rounded to the nearest month.

Probation sentences are included as zero months. Any portion of a sentence that is an alternative confinement as described in USSG §5C1.1 is included. Cases in which a sentence is imposed, but where the length is indeterminable, are excluded. When sentences are expressed as "time served" on the J&C, Commission staff uses the dates in federal custody to determine the length of time served when an offender has been in custody the entire time. If the offender has been in and out of custody, or the start date is unclear/missing, then the Commission assigns a value of one day as a minimal time served amount for these cases.

In cases where the court imposes a sentence of life imprisonment, a numeric value is necessary to include these cases in any sentence length analysis. Accordingly, life sentences are reported as 470 months, a length consistent with the average life expectancy of federal criminal offenders given the average age of federal offenders. Sentences of greater than 470 months are also reported as 470 months. The footnote in the relevant tables and figures indicates when this occurs.

Sentences Under the Guidelines Manual

This category includes offenders whose sentences are determined to be either within the guideline range or outside the guideline range and for which the court cited a reason on Part V of the Statement of Reasons form (Departures Pursuant to the Guidelines Manual). In these cases, the court may also have cited 18 U.S.C. § 3553 or factors or reasons specifically prohibited in the provisions, policy statements, or commentary of the sentencing guidelines as additional reasons. This category includes departures which result from government motions as well as from motions by the offender.

Type of Appeal

Data are derived from analyses of opinions and orders from the courts of appeals. The type of appeals code indicates the types of issues that are raised in the case. The types of appeals codes are: (1) sentencing issues only, (2) sentencing and conviction issues, (3) conviction issues only, (4) Anders Brief, and (5) unknown.

For coding purposes, an appeal involves sentencing issues when the appellant either argues that the district court erred during the sentencing phase or raises issues concerning the applicability of the guidelines to the case at hand. In some cases, the appellant is challenging some part of the plea agreement involving sentencing. These issues are also considered sentencing issues. An appeal involves conviction issues when the appellant claims some sort of error occurred during the investigation, trial, or jury deliberations that did not involve sentencing or the sentencing guidelines. Anders Brief cases are those where the counsel for the appellant has advised the court of appeals that he or she has conscientiously examined the case but finds the appeal to be wholly frivolous and has requested permission to withdraw. See Anders v. California, 386 U.S. 738 (1967). This disposition code was added in fiscal year 2010.

Type of Business

The Type of Business identifies the primary industry in which an organizational offender conducted business. This information is obtained from the Presentence Report.

Type of Crime

Information on Type of Crime is obtained from the primary guideline detailed in the Presentence Report. If the primary guideline is an "attempt/conspiracy" guideline, such as USSG §2X1.1, then the underlying guideline is used to determine the type of crime category.

If there is no primary guideline provided, then information about the type of crime category is obtained from the statutes of conviction listed on the Judgment and Commitment Order. When the "type of crime" for the case is determined from the statutes of conviction, the offense applicable to the count of conviction with the highest statutory maximum becomes the "type of crime." If two or more counts are found to have the same statutory maximum, the "type of crime" is selected according to which count of conviction has the highest statutory minimum. Finally, in the event of a small number of cases still tied, the "type of crime" that best represented the nature of the criminal behavior is chosen.

For convenience in analysis, a summary variable describing "type of crime" is derived. This is generated by grouping similar primary offenses into a smaller set of categories. Note that the crime categories differ between the individual and organizational offender datafiles. Listed below are the offense types that are grouped into each of the crime categories used in the individual offender datafile tables for this report:

Administration of Justice Offenses includes obstructing or impeding officers, contempt, obstruction of justice, perjury or subornation of perjury, bribery of a witness, impersonation, failure to appear by offender, failure to appear by material witness, commission of offense while on release, payment of witness, and misprision of a felony This category includes offenders sentenced under USSG §§2A2.4, 2J1.1, 2J1.2, 2J1.3, 2J1.4, 2J1.6, 2J1.9, and 2X4.1.

Antitrust includes bid-rigging, price-fixing, and market allocation agreement. This category includes offenders sentenced under USSG §2R1.1.

Sentence Type

Using sentencing information obtained from the Judgment and Commitment Order, the Total Receiving Imprisonment category includes the number of offenders sentenced (and percent of Total Cases) who received a commitment to the Bureau of Prisons. This category is the sum of cases in Prison Only and the Prison and Alternatives categories.

The Total Receiving Probation category includes the number of offenders sentenced (and the percent of Total Cases) who received a term of probation with or without a condition of community confinement, intermittent confinement, or home detention. This category is the sum of Probation Only and Probation and Alternatives categories.

The Prison Only category includes offenders sentenced to a term of imprisonment only, with no additional conditions of community confinement, home detention or intermittent confinement.

The Prison and Alternatives category includes all cases in which offenders received prison and conditions of alternative confinement as defined in USSG §5C1.1. This category includes, but is not limited to, Zone A, Zone B, or Zone C cases receiving prison with additional conditions of a term of community confinement, home detention, or intermittent confinement.

The Probation Only category includes the number of offenders who received a term of probation without a condition of community confinement, intermittent confinement, or home detention.

Probation and Alternatives category includes the number of offenders who received a term of probation with a condition of community confinement, intermittent confinement, or home detention.

The Fine Only category includes the number of offenders who received no prison, no probation, and no time of alternative confinement as defined in USSG §5C1.1. Most of these offenders received a fine and/or a special assessment.

Upward Departure

Upward Departure consists of cases in which the sentence imposed was above the applicable guideline range and for which the court cited a reason on Part V of the Statement of Reasons form (Departures Pursuant to the Guidelines Manual). In these cases, the court may also have cited 18 U.S.C. § 3553 or factors or reasons specifically prohibited in the provisions, policy statements, or commentary of the sentencing guidelines as additional reasons. This category includes departures which result from government motions as well as from motions by the parties.

Upward Variance

Upward Variance consists of cases in which the sentence imposed was above the applicable guideline range and for which the court cited a reason on Part VI of the Statement of Reasons form (Court Determination for a Variance). This category includes variances which result from government motions as well as from motions by the offender.

Weapon Involvement

Weapon Involvement in a case is identified either by the application of a guideline enhancement for weapon involvement or a conviction under 18 U.S.C. § 924(c), or both. This variable does not identify cases in which a weapon is present in the offense, but the offender was not convicted of 18 U.S.C. § 924(c) or did not receive a weapon-related sentencing enhancement. It does not identify cases in which the specific enhancement can be applied for multiple reasons; for example, the specific enhancement can be applied if the offense involved either physical contact or if a dangerous weapon was possessed. Finally, this variable does not identify cases sentenced as weapon offenses under USSG Chapter Two, Part K, unless they were convicted of 18 U.S.C. § 924(c).

Within Guideline Range

Offenders are classified in this category when the sentence is within both the guideline range and within the statutory minimum and maximum. The sentence must meet minimum zone requirements as well. In rare instances when a very small departure or variance is granted, but the sentence is still within the original guideline range, the sentence is reported as within range.

Year

Information on Year is obtained from the Judgment and Commitment Order. Unless otherwise indicated, the sentencing year is defined as the fiscal year in which the offender was sentenced.

Zone

The Sentencing Table is categorized into sentencing Zones. Courts may impose various types of punishment as alternatives to imprisonment. Alternative types of punishment include probation, home detention, community confinement, and intermittent confinement. Imposition of alternative types of punishment is restricted to offenders within specific sentencing zones. See Chapter 5 of the Guidelines Manual for a description of alternatives to imprisonment and the conditions under which they apply.
