

§4A1.1(e) - Multiple Crimes of Violence Treated as a Single Sentence

Under §4A1.1(e), one criminal history point is added for each prior sentence resulting from a conviction for a crime of violence that did not receive any points under §4A1.1(a), (b), or (c) because the multiple crimes of violence were treated as a single sentence. A maximum of three criminal history points can be assigned under this section.

Key Points to Remember

- "Crime of Violence" is defined at §4B1.2(a). The court must use the categorical approach to determine if an offense meets the definition of a crime of violence.
- Multiple crimes of violence treated as a single sentence can be contained in separate charging documents or the same charging document.
- Points under §4A1.1(e) can only be assigned when the multiple crimes of violence did not result in any additional criminal history points under §4A1.1(a), (b), or (c).

PLEASE NOTE: Multiple crimes of violence treated as a single sentence cannot be used as multiple predicate crimes of violence for the purpose of determining whether a defendant is a career offender (see §4B1.2(c)).
