

Multiple Crimes of Violence Treated as a Single Sentence

Section 4A1.1(d)

When multiple crimes of violence are treated as a single sentence, add one criminal history point to each crime of violence that does not contribute to the number of criminal history points assigned under §4A1.1(a), (b), or (c). A maximum of three additional points may be applied under this rule.

Key Points to Remember

- “Crime of Violence” is defined at §4B1.2(a) and requires the categorical approach.
- Multiple crimes of violence can be contained in the same or separate charging documents.
- Points under §4A1.1(d) cannot be assigned if all crimes of violence contributed to the scoring of the sentence.
- Points under §4A1.1(d) cannot be assigned if a single sentence does not contain two or more crimes of violence.

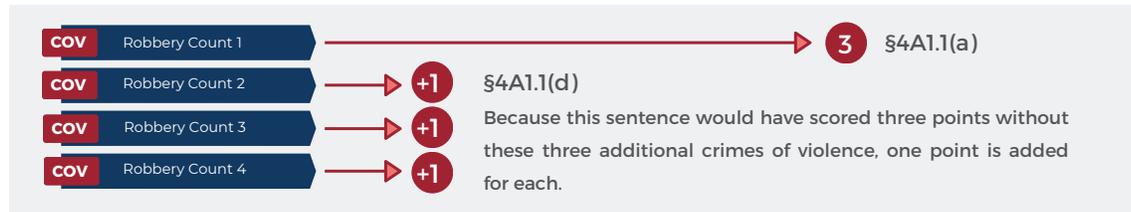

PLEASE NOTE: A single sentence with multiple crimes of violence count only as a single predicate crime of violence when determining the base offense level under §2K2.1 (Firearms) and career offender eligibility under §4B1.1.
